Practical money lessons for local students

We're a student-run financial literacy organization founded at Green Level High School in Cary. We teach younger students how to budget, save, and make everyday money decisions.

What we've done

We've taught workshops in Apex and Southeast Raleigh, created a financial literacy video for ARMS, and built a free platform with interactive lessons and games. Vestera has student-led chapters at three schools and won a YCS Impact Award.

What sponsors receive

We can thank your organization on workshop materials where schools allow it. After the workshops, we'll share a short recap of sessions delivered, student participation, and topics covered for your community impact reporting.
